Clare

Handsome Clare church was built on the back of the 15th century wool cloth trade and looks like a great ship with its mast-like pinnacled turrets. Light streams through the lofty arcades of this beautiful building. Discover the gallery of medieval faces carved in stone between the roof arches and climb up to the Priory Pew in the south aisle. Don’t miss the eagle lectern of Flemish brass, said to be the gift of Elizabeth I.

Kedington

This late 13th century building is one of the most treasured in the country. It was virtually untouched by the Victorians, apart from the skylights in the nave roof which sheds light on the remarkable Barnardistons monuments resplendent with effigies, angels and skulls.

The Barnardistons were Lords of the Manor from 13th century until 1745 and their magnificent manorial pew dates back to 1610.

Cavendish

Set against one of the prettiest village greens in Suffolk, St Mary’s displays fine flint flushwork on its clerestory and battlements and you can see the chimney of the priests fireplace at the top of the tower. Inside the tower are wooden crosses brought back from the graves of local men who fell in WWII.

In the north aisle is a gorgeous 16th century Flemish alabaster of the crucifixion framed by a gilded reredos.

Stoke by Clare

This church was part of a Benedictine Monastery until 1415, the monks founding Stoke College and diverting the River Stour to its present course.

Inside is one of the smallest pulpits in England, named for Matthew Parker, the last college dean and Archbishop of Canterbury who started his career here.

Two rare treasures are the medieval wall painting in the organ chamber uncovered in 1948 and the tiny windmill depicted in 15th century glass.

Angels & Pinnacles

Church Heritage Trails

No.5 in the series: Clare cluster

The Angels & Pinnacles project covers six clusters of churches across Suffolk. Take a walk between these four churches to combine the best of the countryside with Suffolk’s magnificent medieval heritage.
Route 1 — 3.5 miles / 5.6 km each way

S’ Peter and S’ Paul Clare to S’ John the Baptist

Leaving the church by the main south porch, go straight ahead through the market place and follow the sign for Clare Castle Country Park.

Take the road left into Malting Lane, noting the elaborate plasterwork ‘targetting’ on the Broadway houses to your right. Continue on past the old Maltings, now an antiques centre, to the footpath which leads over a bridge. Turn right to take either the lower or the higher footpath. Beyond the trees to your left, is the site of the 13th Century Clare Priory. Suppressed by Henry VIII in 1538, it returned to the ownership of the Augustinian friars in 1953 and is now a parish church and retreat centre.

Walk for about 400 yards to the road and turn left to cross over the bridge, then take the right hand path beside the field with trees on your right. At the corner of the field, bear right to cross the plank bridge. Follow the path with the river on your right and gardens on your left. After the second wooden gate, turn immediately left through a private garden, emerging on to a road. Turn right, then left up Bradley Hill. Almost at the top, turn right into Claret Hall drive. Edward III’s third son Lionel once lived here. Pause at the hall to admire views across the Stour Valley to your right, then follow the track through the woods and continue with paddocks on your left.

Take the path through the middle of the next two fields, cross a plank bridge with railings and walk through the meadow on the other side. At the river, turn left with the weir on your right. Follow the path until you reach a metal gate leading on to the road. Turn right and follow this narrow lane for about 400 yards, then turn right towards Stike by Clare and Haverton. Cross the bridge and carry on up this road past the 30 mph sign, cemetery and playing field.

After the white houses on your left, turn left to follow the path into the Stike by Clare churchyard. Explore the church and return by the same route.

Route 2 — 9 miles / 14.5 km

S’ Mary’s Cavendish to S’ Peter and S’ Paul Clare

From the church, cross Peacocks Road and take the path in front of the Five Bells, crossing the stile by the cemetery. Follow the path round a meadow, turn left along the edge of a field, over a bridge and round to the right, bordering the 14th century Nether Hall until you come to the road.

Bear left, past lakes on your right, before meeting the A1092 road to Clare. Cross the road, go over the bridge and follow the path left past the cemetery towards Clare Castle Country Park where you’ll find the visitor centre in a former railway station and the Norman castle keep, built by the de Clares who were mighty feudal barons in the 13th Century. From here, it is a short walk along Malting Lane and up Market Hill to the church. Don’t miss the Ancient House Museum by the churchyard.

To resume your walk, retrace your steps to the Country Park, picking up the river path from the Malting Lane car park.

Cross the bridge and take the path to your right to cross the field diagonally, taking you over the Stour into Essex. On reaching the road, turn left. After 200 yards, pick up the bridleway to your left down again towards the Stour. At the river, turn right across the field. The track heads left and finally through woodland before again meeting the river. At the T-junction of paths, turn right across the field. Continue to the lane where you turn left to pass Bower Hall. Bearing slightly to the right, keep on the bridleway for about a mile towards Pentlow Hall.

Clare has a wide choice of places to eat and drink.

Visit the Clare Ancient House Museum next to the church to find out more.
